Christian Endeavor In Session At Campus

The Massachusetts Christian Endeavor celebrates its 25th Northfield sessions this week at Northfield Seminary when nearly 700 persons from all parts of the state and from neighboring states meet together in classes and services. The first session began Monday.

To enlarge the spiritual outlook and deepen the spiritual insight so that life may be more richly lived is the aim. With its varied program of worship, study and recreation, this "conference is an experience to be lived," according to the words of the field secretary, Russell J. Blair of Boston.

Some of the leaders present are Dr. Maurice A. Levy of Pittsfield, who returns to lead the morning devotional hour in Sage Chapel; Rev. Allan D. Creelman of North Scituate; Dr. Te-hy Hsieh of Boston a noted Chinese; and Dr. William Hiram Foulkes, vice-president of the International Christian Endeavor Union, who will address the Conference on Sunday, the 23rd.

The oratorical contest will bring before the Conference three outstanding young people speaking on the theme: "My Vocation a Worthy Life Work." During the year each C. E. Union has held elimination contests, and this conference contest will be the final.

Recreation featured the Christian Endeavor conference, when the entire group went to Mount Hermon Wednesday afternoon for a field day visits over the campus, and supper. In the evening the regular stunt night was held in the Auditorium, when the different unions presented some humorous scene to the amusement of everyone.

Winners of the semi-finals of the oratorical contest on the subject, "My Vocation a Worthy Life Work," were announced as follows: Mary Beals of Ipswich, Mary Prouty of North Scituate, and Charles A. House of Lowell. On Friday night the finals will be conducted in Sage Chapel.

Dr. Maurice A. Levy of Pittsfield spoke in chapel Wednesday morning, "Making the Most of Yourself," or the development of personality. He said that two factors are at work making personalities. These are heredity and environment. However, there is a life force within man which can modify the mold, which can make him better than his surroundings. Although you have heard it said that water cannot run uphill, it is not true. Under pressure we use water that runs upward every day. Such adequate reinforcement for the building of the personality can also come from God.

Each man can be better than his heredity and be superior to his environment. Much is said these days about eugenics. Each one can make out of himself a better man or woman than he is if he will use the mind and will which God endowed him with. He who fails to try is under condemnation. That is the sort of lack that is akin to a sin. Those who are satisfied with just getting by who could do far better are guilty of it. There is that personal responsibility to make the most of ourselves that some day we shall be judged for, Dr. Levy concluded.

Harmony Lodge To Have First Masonic Visitation

The first of the Masonic visitations to lodges of the Fourteenth Masonic district will be made by D. D. G. M. Richard G. Holton on Sept. 11, when he will visit Harmony Lodge of Northfield. He will be accompanied on his visitations by D. D. G. M. T. F. Darby and D. D. G. T. Henry W. Russell, both of Northfield. The visitation to Republican Lodge of Greenfield comes October 2. The complete list of visitations was recently given in these columns.

Gave Neighborhood Feast

Mr. and Mrs. William J. McRoberts of "Derry Boy Cottage" in Mountain Park gave an outdoor feast last Monday evening in their garden in front of an outdoor fireplace to their neighbors in honor of Mr. Thomas Nevin of New York who was their guest over the week end. It was a happy event indeed and there was plenty of good things to eat handled by the chef and his assistants. Among those present beside Mr. and Mrs. McRoberts and their guest Mr. Nevin were Mr. and Mrs. Frederic Nevin and son Henry of Pittsburgh, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. Frank N. Ray of Providence, R. I.; Miss Francis McRoberts of East Orange, N. J.; Rev. and Mrs. Robert A. Watson and sons Alton and Robert of Jamaica, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Mains of Providence, R. I.; Miss Anna Miller of Jamaica, N. Y.; Mrs. Maude N. Voris and Miss Ariene Voris of Jamaica, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. William F. Hoehn of East Northfield; Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Baldwin and daughter Catherine of Springfield, Mass.; and Mister Jack McRoberts of Brooklyn.

Hospital Benefits

By the will of John H. Sanderson for many years president of Franklin County Trust Company, manufacturer and prominent in the business affairs of Greenfield, there is left an estate estimated at a million dollars, according to his will filed in the Probate Court. It provides certain bequests outright and the income after deaths of other beneficiaries goes to the Franklin County Public Hospital.

General Conference Ended Last Sunday Well Attended

The closing services of the 51st Northfield General Conference, which has lasted for two weeks, drawing an attendance of 2500 people from many parts of the country, was held Sunday when Dr. Charles E. Jefferson, formerly pastor of the Broadway Tabernacle, made an address on "Eternal Foundations." Mr. William R. Moody, presided.

"Is there anything permanent?" Dr. Jefferson declared as one of the major questions of the 20th century. The general temper today is that anything old is obsolete. In the realm of material things, in ideas on astronomy, physics, psychology, and politics, all is in the flux. The same is true of religion. Manners and attitudes have changed toward the theater, fiction, art, Sabbath observance, and the Bible. Will capitalism, democracy, marriage, and the home continue or disappear? are questions in the air today.

In answer to all this, the speaker averred that there are substances that do not change. Such are water, fire, the air, elements, the stars, the alphabet, and the multiplication table. There are principles of conduct that have long been with us. For example, honoring father and mother, and the other commandments of the Ten Tables. Can anyone improve on the beautitudes, Dr. Jefferson asked. For 60 generations the finality and authority of Jesus have persisted in a changing world.

The outstanding event of this summer has been the outstretched hands of help to Germany by the very nations which sought to its utmost to annihilate her 13 years ago. The recognition of the fact that we must all aid each other if we are to survive, let alone progress, is a fundamental principle that Jesus taught many years ago. When nations and individuals realize that selfishness means death in the end, and that co-operation means advance, then and only then are people reaching forward toward God, Dr. Jefferson concluded.

Circus A Success; But Had Rainy Day

The 104th annual circus held last Saturday afternoon and evening at "Green Pastures" the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Fitt was a success in spite of the incessant downpour of rain which persisted all day.

The wet weather put something of a damper on the outdoor program, but all the saleable articles were taken indoors and disposed of, excepting some candy and children's toys, which have since been turned into cash.

The Penny Arcade in the barn did a flourishing business all afternoon. The dowager queen of the gypsies (Mrs. Allen Wright) was kept continuously occupied telling fortunes at her gypsy wagon, assisted by Dorothy Stone with a crystal. When the rain ceased the Irish Wishin' Well, the dog wagon, Slammer Sambo and obstetric croquet immediately started to do business. Catching two greased pigs was an exciting and hilarious event.

Philip Porte was the belle of the party.

Mrs. George Kidder had a good time every minute as she disposed of a large stock of 5 and 10 cent surprise packages and other articles.

Fleming H. Revel of New York generously bought supplies of lollipops, sugar bars, horns and other things to send up to the 35 children in Virginia Camp just now.

Among those who presided at booths at the circus were Mrs. Thomas Parker, Mrs. George Pefferie, Mrs. Ross Spencer, Mrs. Powell and the girls of the senior class of the high school who assisted Mrs. Fitt in serving tea.

In the evening there was an entertainment at which Miss Gerda Schroeder sang and several selections from the Wishin' Well were given. After the evening performance several numbers were repeated at Hotel Northfield. There was also a concert by the Swedish Players, the Misses Lageloff, Miss Swanson and Miss Anderson, who rendered songs and spirituals.

We are asked by the girls' committee of Virginia Fresh Air Camp to thank all the friends who helped to make the circus a success by the contribution of candy and other homemade things and by helping with their services at the sales tables.

In addition to the donations that have already been acknowledged they want to thank the Root Drugstore in Brattleboro for chocolate bars; Arthur H. Bolton for a quart of cream, for the tea service; Bob's Filling Station near Bennett's Meadow Bridge for the loan of the monkey for the menagerie; the Brooks Riding Stable at Hotel Northfield for the loan of a saddle horse; and the guests of the Northfield who gave generous contributions for Virginia Camp.

S. E. Walker, treasurer, reports that after all bills have been paid the net proceeds of over $300 remains.

Historical Society To Hold Annual Meeting

The Northfield Historical Society is scheduled to hold its Annual Meeting, Tuesday September 1st at Alexander Hall. An interesting program is being arranged as the society expects to have as its guests the members of the Hinsdale Historical Society.

Franklin County Hospital Food Sale A Success

The Food Sale, held on the lawn of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Moody, on the afternoon of August 14th was highly successful in every particular, under the able leadership of Mrs. W. G. Webber and her many assistants. As a result $124.20 has been paid to the Hospital. At the close of the sale a truck and driver from the Northfield Hotel took vegetables, fruit, canned fruit, jellies, sugar and an abundance of flowers, valuation $30 to the hospital so that Northfield has a credit of $154.20 for the whole affair. The solicitors met with hearty response in every section of the town. The Committee extend their thanks to The Northfield Hotel, and the Seminary for transportation furnished, to the merchants in Northfield, W. Northfield and South Vernon for their generosity, to the Northfield Herald for its publicity and other assistance given, and to every citizen for his or her co-operation.

People occupying summer homes, passing tourists and townspeople found their way to the tables as generous patrons which was greatly appreciated. That event has brought to the attention of nearly every citizen of Northfield the needs of our Hospital, and given them an opportunity to "Lend a Hand."

One man said to a solicitor "of some of the millions poured upon Yale, Harvard and other great colleges could be given to our hospitals as endowments, what a blessing it would be to Humanity."

The late Mr. Sanderson of Greenfield has exemplified this thought in his will recently made public.

Sympathy For Lepers Expressed On Sunday Last

Secretary Wm. M. Danner of the American Mission to Lepers was speaker at a meeting held on the lawn of "Green Pastures" last Sunday afternoon. He showed a number of large photos depicting the need of work for lepers in all lands, and the hospitals and colonies that are now in operation for their relief. The aim of the American and other leper missions is to rid the world of leprosy. There are 1600 known lepers in the United States, and about 20,000 in the Philippines. The governments of America, Japan, China, India, and several European nations are back of this movement, and the League of Nations is engaged in a world survey of the task.

A program prepared for leper missionary meetings was followed in part. Mrs. Gerda Schroeder sang, "There's A Beautiful Land On High." The Northfield quartet composed of Mrs. Mildred Addison, Miss Sophia Servaes, Dr. Allen H. Wright and Leon R. Alexander sang a song, "He Cares For Us," words and music by a leper patient in U. S. Hospital 66, Carville, La.

Several supporters of the American Mission came from Greenfield and other nearby points for the gathering.

Sunday School At The Congregational Church

Sunday school at the North Church will meet at 9:30 for the last time next Sunday. On Sunday August 30 the regular services are to be resumed at the church, and Sunday school will meet at 10 o'clock. Every teacher and scholar in all departments are urged to be present.

A meeting of the Sunday School Cabinet, consisting of Mrs. Vorce, Mrs. Montague, Harry L. James, and A. P. Fitt was held last Wednesday to perfect plans for the new session. They voted to hold a teachers meeting at the church on Monday next August 24, at 7:30.

Northfield Has Real Fishermen

Last week end two fishing parties motored up to Squam Lake to try their luck. In one party was Myron Dunnell, Alfred Holton, Bill Dalton and James Dale and a second party consisted of Thomas Parker, Roderick Parker and Harry Gingras. They all caught some fish—real lake trout and it looked like a tournament, among them with Gingras a victor with a twelve pounder. Another caught one of eleven pounds, while a third tipped the scales at eight pounds. But why tell it all. It would spoil the fish stories of the anglers.

The W. C. T. U. Will Have Food Sale

On the lawn of Mrs. C. P. Buffum, Saturday afternoon August 22, at 2:30 o'clock, hot baked beans, brown bread, cake, cottage cheese, jams and jellies, also fancy articles will be for sale. The public is cordially invited to patronize the sale which will be held—rain or shine—at the appointed time.

At the time of the sale there will be offered some unique bags to be used for patchwork, mending or fancy work. They can be carried to porch or lawn, stand on their own legs and come in colors blue, green and pink. They are complete and very convenient.

Northfield Student To Receive Ohio State Degree

During the last year Mr. Miller has held a Fellowship at the Ohio State University in the School of Social Administration. Mr. Miller has specialized in Community Chest organization and administration and will begin his duties as Assistant Executive Secretary of the Providence Community Fund, Providence, R. I., on September 1.

Alliance Garden Party Next Thursday

Next Thursday evening August 27th there will be held a Garden Party on the spacious and beautiful lawn of Miss Victoria Sankey by the Women's Alliance of the Unitarian Church. The entire grounds will be illuminated and the big fireplaces will blaze away its radians glow—The entrance will be through the Parsonage grounds. The party opens at five o'clock and will afford an opportunity to view the pretty landscape from the lawn and to see the beautiful flowers in the Sankey gardens. A good attendance is expected. A bevy of Northfield's popular young ladies will serve in a cafeteria lunch.

Conference Season About Over—Ends Sunday

When the Massachusetts Christian Endeavor Conference holds its final sessions on Sunday next the 23d—the end of the Conference season will have been reached. It has been a busy season indeed with more activity than in the past few years and now, soon the summer will be over and the sojourners in our midst will be one by one quietly withdrawing to their own homes in various parts of the land. To all of them we say God-speed—au revoir—but with assurance of another welcome in 1932.

Dr. Newton Place Sold

The Rev. Thomas T. Brown of Taneytown, Maryland has purchased the Dr. Newton place on Main Street from the executors of the estate of the late Dr. R. F. Croft. The First National Bank and Trust Co., of Greenfield.

Mr. Brown and his wife have been summer visitors here for a number of years. They plan to make a permanent home of this property. The sale was made by Mr. W. W. Coe. The price paid was not made public but the property is subject to a first mortgage of $5500 held by the Greenfield Savings Bank and a second mortgage of $1,000.

Episcopal Congress Is To Be In Hartford

Rev. Raymond Cunningham, rector of Trinity Episcopal Church of Hartford announced that the 58th National Church Congress of the Protestant Episcopal church will be held in Hartford in April. Archdeacon Marshall E. Mott explained that this is a decidedly intellectual body and laymen as well as clergymen meet and discuss papers and momentous questions in religion. Those who attend are chosen from all over the country.

Thrown From Truck

Tuesday afternoon while riding on the truck driven by Eddie Morgan near Nelson's Pond in West Northfield, Mr. F. A. Bigelow was thrown to the ground and struck on his shoulder and side. He was immediately taken to his home on Maple street where Dr. Webber was summoned. The injuries are not serious but Mr. Bigelow will be laid up for a time. Mr. Bigelow and the truck were employed in work for the town on the highways.

"Al" Raymond, pro at the Northfield layout, had charge of the tournament.

Baseball Game Will Probably Net $50 Toward Washington Trip Fund

The Northfield Athletic Association staged a baseball game on Wednesday afternoon between Northfield and Athol on the Northfield Hotel grounds for the benefit of the Washington trip of the High School Seniors and the game has probably netted about $50. There was a good attendance of spectators who followed the game with much interest and saw Northfield defeated by a score of 5 to 2 in six innings. The umpires were Porter and Dawes. EDITORIAL

Quite recently there has been some talk among groups of our citizens that a unified postal system was desirable for our community. They meant that Northfield should have a single post-office from which all mails should arrive and depart from both railroads and from which should radiate a complete carrier delivery to all parts of the town as well as all rural routes. This may be a very good idea but the real problem that will confront us—will be the location of a central Postoffice. Upon this we will not be agreed but the plan can be considered and discussed upon its merits and possibly when action is called for a decision can be unanimously arrived at.

The Editor of a newspaper that is independent and progressive needs no wet nurse to prescribe its policies and attitude. The Editor must think for himself. There is a real difference and distinction between the penning of one's thoughts and opinions and the forging of propaganda. If the freedom of the press is to be maintained an Editor must be his own judge of what he considers proper reading matter for his periodical. What might be desirable for one Editor might be undesirable for another. The Editor and only the Editor of each newspaper can be the sole judge of what he requires for publication in his newspaper.

Less than 3 1/2 per cent of the population of the United States pays more than 96 per cent of the federal income tax, and less than 7 per cent of all corporations in the country pay more than 95 per cent of the corporation income tax.

The average person, merely glancing at these figures, might decide that taxation is merely a matter affecting the rich individual, or the big business, and so none of his concern. But, unhappily, taxes do not work that way. If a company is taxed a dollar or a million dollars, there is but one way it can raise the funds to pay—by passing the cost on to those who buy the articles or services it sells.

Every person in the country is a tax-payer. When he buys food, pays rent, buys gasoline, takes out an insurance policy or goes to a theatre, he automatically pays some of his money to government. The old saying that death and taxes are inevitable is true today than it ever was. And, as a result, tax reduction, far from being a matter that interests only the wealthy few, is a matter of remendous personal importance to each of us.

Under the general caption of Worthwhile Preachments the Editor begins in this issue a series of articles to be written by ministers, lawyers, authors, writers and business men without signature which should afford most interesting reading and study. They will contain expressions of thought and suggestions that may help along the pathway of life.

Items Of Interest

Brockton, Mass., Fair dates are September 15, 16, 17, 18, 19—There will be five days and five nights of something doing.

Assessors of Westhampton have declared a tax rate of $27.30 per thousand and Assessors of South Hadley Falls announce their rate as $26.20 per thousand.

The Assessors of East Longmeadow have announced a rate of $37.20 per thousand for tax purposes, which is an increase of $.60 per thousand over last year. Some advertisement for prospective homeseekers.

Under the terms of a will of the late Lydia J. Pike of Dover, N. H., Dartmouth College is to receive $100,000. The gift was in memory of her brother, the late Justice Robert Gordon Pike of the New Hampshire Superior Court.

Massachusetts motorists have driven in their cars on an average of 132 more miles apiece so far this year than in 1930, yet with smaller total of fatal accidents, according to an announcement today by the governor's committee on street and highway safety. The holding of the death toll below last year's mid-summer mark, the statement points out, thus becomes even more surprising when it is revealed that the mileage covered by drivers in this state rose 4 per cent for the first half of the year.

"This is Bunker Hill Monument—where Warren fell, you know." Visitor, eyeing shaft thoughtfully. "Er, nasty fall. Killed him, of course!"

Policeman: "How did you come to get that jar of honey?" Tramp: "Well, I admit I don't keep no bees; but what's to stop a fellow squeezing it out of the flowers himself?"

The Poet's Corner

DEAR OLD WENDELL

Old Wendell calls her children home
On this her natal day
From North to South, from East to West
Wherever they may now be
To celebrate with joyful cheer
Her century and a half.
To greet old friends and new ones make
And feast and sing and laugh.

Her visan grand, her happy homes,
Her memories of the years gone by,
Bring back the days of long ago,
Their pleasures and their tears.
Here was the place of childhood glee
The hearthstones with their joys,
Where character was moulded well
In lives of girls and boys.

Thank God for home and aged sires
And others tender love.
Their lives were like a version
From Heaven itself above.
Today we would with tender hearts
Thank God for the good we see,
And likewise say our Father God
Who freely gave us all.

Go on O Wendell in thy work
Of raising noble men
And daughters who shall relight
The Home fires once again.
Uphold the church, the town, the Grange.
That Centuries yet unborn
May bless thy hills and happy homes
Till the millennial morn.

Fall not to bravely carry on
The grand work of thy sires.
Fulfil in children's children dear
Their highest best desires
Until that glorious morning dawns
When from the upland sod
The sun rises on Heaven's birthday dawn
To see the face of God.

at the recent Wendell 150th anniversary celebration.

THOUGHTS

My mind is full of pretty thoughts,
Like butterflies shut in a box.
No young Pandora hovers near
To let them out in sonnets clear.
No key that fits has yet been found
To free them. They are cocoon-bound.

They flutter fitfully their wings,
And long to say a myriad thing.
About the sunset's ruddy glow,
And fleecy clouds as white as snow.
About the pretty birds that sing,
Like flower-gardens on the wing.

They hover down deep in my heart,
Yet in my speech they play no part.
Oh, tongue, what havoc you have wrought,
How many times you've vainly sought

For words correctly to express
An all pervading happiness.
Or sympathy for friend in need,
Or gladness of a loved one's deed.

"Night Nurse" Requires Ten Babies In Filming

Those who attend the Auditorium Theatre in Brattleboro next Wednesday and Thursday to see the "Night Nurse" will witness a great production. Ten babies will appear in one of the scenes.

The pomp and circumstance was made necessary by the fact that the children were all under sixty days old, and that the Board of Education, the Health Department dictate some very stringent rules when babies set out to earn a livelihood.

For the sake of twenty minutes which the young Thespians spent in the studio, they brought with them a retinue consisting of two public officials, three doctors and two nurses, besides their proud mothers.

A screened-off room was constructed covered with black cloth as protection against the lights. Electric heaters were installed and kept at the proper temperature.

As the set was fully equipped with the most modern hospital equipment, some of it was pressed into use for the comfort of the babies. Certified milk was also provided for formula-fed babies and sanitary heating facilities for the nurses to prepare the formulas.

Each child was given a thorough physical examination before being taken on the set and no one was allowed to handle them but the nurses. Those who came in contact with them during the filming were first put through sanitary precautions.

Miss Lois Horne, in charge of child education and welfare for Warner Brothers, supervised the proceedings.

"Night Nurse" is a thrilling story of the experiences of a young nurse, portrayed by Barbara Stanwyck, Ben Lyon, plays opposite her. Others in the strong cast are Joan Blondell, Charles Winniger, Charlotte Merriam, Edward Nugent, Allan Lane, Blanche Frederik, Vera Ralston, Ralf Harolde, Clark Gable, Walter McGrail, Betty May—and two of the special babies. Marcia Mae Jones and Betty Jane Graham. The exciting play is an adaptation of the novel by Dorothy Macauley.

August is Jubilee Month at the Lawler and Garden — Greenfield's Public Theatre. See Announcement on Page 3 for the Jubilee Hits.

"Here lies a lawyer and an honest man" was the epitaph carved on the tombstone of a prominent attorney.

"Wal, I swan," said the old timer, as he looked at it, "I wonder how they happened to bury them two fellows in the same grave."

Automobile Tours And Trips From Northfield

Visit Our Country's Threshold Plymouth Rock: Noblest Shrine In America.

An interesting trip from Northfield of only a little over a hundred miles is this to Plymouth.

The noblest, and probably the most inconspicuous shrine of American history, is the seven ton syenite rock that lies by the edge of the sea at Plymouth, Mass.

Who knows how the course of our national history might have been changed if the Pilgrims had not stepped ashore on this historic rock to form their first permanent settlement in America. The main stream of our development in religion, in education, in literature and in political freedom may be said to spring from Plymouth Rock, the doorstep of our country.

You won't need a guide book to post you on all the interesting landmarks in Plymouth. Patriotic societies all over the country have seen to it that Plymouth is well supplied with monuments and bronze tablets.

You will, of course, visit Pilgrim Hall with its fine collection of relics. Here you will see the ample arm chairs of the heroic Governor Carver and of Elder Brewster, and the Dutch cradle in which the first Pilgrim baby born in America was rocked. If you are interested in old books you will also find here John Alden's Bible, John Elliot's Indian Bible (1685) and a real Breeches Bible. By the way, what's a Breeches Bible?

Also in this museum are: the celebrated sword of Miles Standish with its outlandish inscriptions; the Colonial Charter of 1621, probably the oldest state document in America; and the only existing portrait of a Mayflower passenger, Edward Winslow.

At the corner of Carver and Leyden Streets you will find a tablet marking the site of the Common House which the Pilgrims erected during their first winter. A log house, thatched, 20 feet square, dedicated to the Common use. It must have been much in demand for that first winter was a tough one, what with sickness and the hardships of the climate. No wonder the figure of Faith was selected to top the national monument erected here to the memory of our forefathers. Faith was the one thing the Pilgrims had in abundance.

It is safe to say that the colonists would never have pulled through had it not been for the friendliness and hospitality of the Indians. Late in the Fall of the following year the Pilgrims reciprocated by inviting King Massasoit and ninety Indians to a feast and "did make merry for three days." Good for them! It was the first Thanksgiving.

Take your time about seeing Plymouth. It is not to be done in a day. See Burial Hill where are buried many of the Pilgrims and their descendants. As you wander among the graves you will find many quaint and touching inscriptions, as for instance this one on an infant's tomb: "He glanced into our world to see a sample of our misery."

Worthwhile Preachments AN INNKEEPER'S TRIBUTE

The one hundredth anniversary of the birth of Edward Everett Hale—"Christian preacher, leader in all manner of philanthropic effort, writer of wholesome and widely read books, man of vision in civic affairs, and an eminent leader in the movement for better methods of international usage"—was celebrated in Symphony Hall, Boston, in 1922. The Governor of the Commonwealth presided, Bishop Hughes of the Methodist Church led in a responsive Scripture lesson, prayer was offered by Rev. Samuel M. Crothers, pastor of the First Unitarian Church of Cambridge. Two addresses were given, one by Henry Cabot Lodge, Senior United States Senator, on "Edward Everett Hale as a Citizen," and another by Dean Charles R. Brown of Yale Divinity School, many years a Congregational pastor on "Edward Everett Hale as a Minister." Dean Brown—now Dean Emeritus—who tells of the celebration in his late book, "My Own Yesterdays," relates the following:

I chanced once on an out-of-the-way, unconventional tribute to the high qualities in Dr. Hale's life. There was a man who kept a small inn on the road to Crater Lake, in Southern Oregon. I stopped at that inn when I made the trip in 1909. Men who were hunting or fishing or tramping through the mountains would often seek accommodation there, and occasionally some of them would get their supper and spend the night and then go off early in the morning without paying their bills. It is not always easy to judge of a man's financial standing or responsibility from the clothes he wears when he is out in the mountains.

The innkeeper had hit upon this device for separating the sheep from the goats. He had taken full-page portraits of Edward Everett Hale from the Sunday edition of the New York Times and had tacked it upon the wall of the little office.

When a man was about to register, the innkeeper would say to him, quite casually, pointing to the picture, "Do you know who that is?" If the man looked up and replied, "Why yes, that is Edward Everett Hale," he was allowed to register and stay all night. If he did not know, he would have to go on—there would be no accommodations there for him. The innkeeper felt that just to know Edward Everett Hale by sight was a sufficient guarantee of a man's respectability to insure his paying his hotel bill next morning.

Progress Being Made On the New Highway

On the new state highway cutting off Millers Falls and Turners Falls the Lawton Construction company which has charge of building the two-mile stretch from the state road at Millers Falls to the mouth of the Millers river at the Connecticut, will move nearly 50,000 cubic yards of earth. At present they are moving 1400 yards daily, handling this with three steam shovels and about a dozen trucks. They also have charge of building two cement and steel bridges, one over Moore street in Millers Falls and one over the Central Vermont railroad tracks. The site of the road required the removal of one house on Forest street in Millers Falls and the Lawton company dug the cellar hole and moved the house last week. The entire job of two miles was let by the state at a cost of $193,590. The entire road will cost the state over $1,000,000. One large suspension bridge will be built over the Connecticut river, which will take about two years to complete. The five-mile stretch from the Connecticut river to Greenfield has just been contracted for by the Kelleher corporation of Turners Falls.

The visitors, traveling on what is called the Know Mississippi Better train, will reach Brattleboro at 6:45 p.m., and will be entertained at a dinner at Hotel Brooks, leaving later in the evening for Montreal. Northfield is to be represented at the gathering.

Did You Get A Blue Ticket How Many Issued In Northfield?

Motorists who have disregarded warning tags in the state-wide campaign against the eight principal causes of automobile accidents will discover within a few days the serious consequences of repeated violations, as the result of drastic action being taken Wednesday by the governor's committee on street and highway safety. The committee is transmitting to the Registrar of Motor Vehicles, Morgan T. Ryan the names of 196 drivers who have been tagged three times already in the four month drive that began June 1. With the list of these repeaters and three-peaters goes a recommendation for disciplinary measures by the registry. These double and triple offenders were found in analysis at the State House of the stubs of more than 11,000 blue tickets handed out by local and state police. More are constantly piling up in the offices of the governor's committee. As additional cases of repeated offences come to light, the committee will send the names to Registrar Ryan for such action as he finds it proper to take. Among the 196 repeaters were eight women. The nine three-peaters were all men.

Wilson, Mrs. Dorothy Canfield Fisher, who is a Bennington trustee and Dr. William E. Rappard, former League of Nations official.

Jersey Breeders' Hold Annual Field Day

The Franklin County Jersey Breeders' Association held their annual Field Day at Charles S. Tenney's farms in Northfield. About fifty Jersey enthusiasts spent the morning in the inspection of the herd and the farm crops. The herd is represented by about 175 milking cows and they are shipping 1600 quarts a day from the herd. This is nearly all going as Grade A Milk and a little as special baby milk. A good proportion of the herd are registered Jersey's, the balance mostly grade with a few Holsteins. Two or three years ago Mr. Tenney started to keep Holsteins to reduce the fat content of his milk, but did not find it profitable so he is removing them from his herd.

Inspection of the fields showed some wonderful crops of clover and alfalfa being grown. Mr. Tenney seeds in the spring with a mixture of five pounds alfalfa, six pounds red clover, four pounds white clover and two pounds timothy and as the clover gradually works out the alfalfa remains and makes a very satisfactory crop. He is just now soiling his herd from the second cutting of a two year old clover field much of which will give a third cutting.

He has about three hundred acres in his two farms, most of which is cultivatable land and he is keeping a total of two hundred fifty head of stock. His dairy house, dairy equipment, milking machines and methods of caring for them were objects of much favorable comment.

After a basket lunch under the big maples in front of the residence, President Raymond Carpenter of Shelburne, introduced Mr. Tenney who said a few words concerning the development of his farms and answered many questions relating to his crops and management. A. F. Pierce of Winchester, N. H., Mrs. Mary Harris of Deerfield, President E. B. Graves of the State Jersey Breeders' Association and J. H. Putnam, County Agent, responded with a few pertinent remarks. Mr. Tenney then lead out four of his choice cows and a judging contest followed. A. F. Pierce of Winchester, N. H., placed the cows and there were six of the amateur judges who placed them the same as did Mr. Pierce. The winners of the contest who tied for first place were Mrs. Mary J. Harris, Mrs. Carl Pratt, John Jones, James Duckworth, Mr. Willey and Ernest Dunklee.

The party then drove to the farm of A. A. Dunklee and Sons, South Vernon, whose farm is conducted along lines similar to that of Mr. Tenney, his son-in-law. Here were found one hundred milking cows with a beautiful string of calves and heifers. Mr. Dunklee's farm methods are worth the study of every dairy farmer and the party broke up with many thanks to the hosts of the day. People who think New England farming is a joke should have visited these two farms where there were together two hundred seventy-five milking cows besides about one hundred fifty head more of young stock.

The delegates elected to attend the Firemen's convention to be held in Claremont Sept. 8 are: Richard L. Howe, Leonard Young, John P. McCaughern, George Rebeor, Peter Zavortny, Daniel Lachance; alternates, Frank J. Walker, Winfield Brooks, William Booth, J. R. Rimbald, Arthur Houle, Dona Bergeron.

The American Legion auxiliary has completed arrangements for the staging of Sweetheart Town, a local talent musical comedy, at the town hall Sept. 17 and 18. The production will be presented by a cast of many local celebrities. As an added attraction 100 local kiddies will take part in a miniature wedding preceding the regular performance which will be called The Wedding of the Little Doll.

The Northfield Schools Again Beneficiary

The Springfield Republican in its Editorial column last week says this of the benefactions of the late George L. Fox of New Haven who leaves part of his estate to the Northfield Schools.

"For a man who had been an educator all his life and was not known to have inherited money, the late George L. Fox of New Haven left a surprisingly large fortune, estimated by his executors at $500,000 or more. The Northfield schools should get, from the reported terms of the will, about $100,000 eventually, of which some $60,000 should apparently go to the schools as soon as the estate is settled, the remainder being left in trust with a life interest to Mr. Fox's relatives. The Northfield schools share equally with Yale university, the New Haven hospital, the Wallingford Antituberculosis association and the New Haven foundation in the residue of the estate after the payment of small legacies and in the final division of the trust funds after the life interest has expired."

Something New:—A new, up-to-date state approved grease dispensary has been added to the Greasing Department at the Morgan Garage, Northfield. This machine assures the customer of Accurate Measure and is the Last Word in Cleanliness. The Dispenser works under Air Pressure which forces the Grease into the Gear Boxes Without loss by spilling. A dial on the Gauge shows the exact amount of lubricant going into the car and the Customer pays only for what he actually gets. Adv. 4-24-tf

The 18th annual triennial reunion of the Alumni association of Powers Institute was held in the Bernardston town hall on Wednesday, August 19. After a business session in the afternoon a dinner was given by the ladies of the churches and a social evening followed. After a number of speeches had been made a dance followed.

A pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Nelson at four o'clock Saturday afternoon when their daughter, Miss Elinor Georgianna Nelson was married to Charles Edson Vose of Ashfield, son of Mrs. C. H. Vose of Stockbridge, Vt. The single ring ceremony was performed by Rev. A. L. Truesdell of Goodale United church under an arch of hemlock and potted plants, with a wedding bell hanging from the center.

The bride's gown was of white satin and lace with a tulle veil caught with orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses and white sweet peas. The best man was Guy Townsend of Bristol, Vt. Mrs. C. Albert Pratt played the Lohengrin wedding march. The bride's traveling dress was blue silk travel tweed. The bride and bridegroom left immediately following the reception on a motor trip to Maine and Canada.

Mrs. Vose graduated from Powers Institute with the class of 1925 and spent one year in Greenfield in the library training class and for the past five years has been a librarian in the Macon branch library in Brooklyn, N. At The Publix Movies

Greenfield's Theatre patrons are to see, and hear, beginning at once, the greatest talking pictures that have ever been produced. This flat and emphatic statement was made yesterday by Martin J. Mullin, G. Ralph Branton and Edward A. Cuddy, general manager and assistant general managers respectively of the Paramount Publix theatres in New England.

Fresh from a conference in which the new product had been thoroughly reviewed and in which a glimpse into the future had been permitted them by actual showing of excerpts from many of the new pictures, the Publix officials referred to were enthusiastic over the coming season.

"It actually means the dawn of a new era in the talking picture world," said General Manager Mullin. "I am so enthusiastic that I am at a loss to find adjectives with which to describe my delight. If the producers of all the companies had held back the cream of their product for the beginning of the season they could not possibly have presented a stronger, more powerful lineup of pictures than those now booked for the Publix theatres of New England and Greater Boston in the months to come."

Suggesting that Assistant General Manager Branton tell of some of the new things to come, Mr. Mullin continued, "I know that the new releases are so far superior to what has gone before that there can be no adequate basis of comparison. They will change the entire aspect of our business."

Learn what a difference six cylinders make

Step out of any other low-priced car into a Chevrolet, and learn the difference six cylinders make.

"Idle" the engine—and the whole car remains steady. Open the throttle—the power flows evenly. Accelerate—throttle down—go fifteen or fifty—and this smoothness stays with you whatever you do. It's actually built in the motor—and objectionable vibration never even starts!

Yet smoothness is only one of many six-cylinder advantages. There's greater quietness, because noisy vibration is gone. There's greater comfort, because built-in smoothness doesn't tire you out. There's greater flexibility, because the power impulses of a six overlap. And a six is much easier to handle!

If you raise the hood of a Chevrolet and watch the engine running so smoothly, you'll realize that six cylinders also mean greater dependability.

And remember when you do—that no other car is so economical to operate as the Chevrolet Six.

Twenty beautiful models, at prices ranging from $475 to $675
All prices f. o. b. Flint, Mich., special equipment extra. Low delivered prices and
